Source: archived email “FW: Cancer Biology Directors Retreat follow up.” Lynn Matrisian forwarded the chain to Doug Liles on December 23, 2006. The passage below is a transcription of item 5 in Frank Torti’s December 14, 2006 email.

“We are moving ahead to improve the web site with Doug Liles help.”

Context: the email concerns follow-up from the Asilomar Cancer Biology Directors retreat. It discusses consortium training recommendations and website work.

What it establishes: an explicit acknowledgment of Doug’s website collaboration. It does not establish an executive-committee appointment or authorship of the consortium’s recommendations. This public copy is a selected transcription, not a complete email export.

Selected excerpts only. Personal contact details, signatures, and unrelated material are omitted. Originals retained in the private archive. Historical participation does not imply current affiliation or institutional endorsement.
